Contents

Foreword
Patrick J. Cescau, Group Chief Executive Officer, Unilever ................. 11

Foreword
Tyler J. Elm, Senior Director, Corporate Strategy & Finance,
Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. ................................................................. 15

Introduction .......................................................... 21

Part I  Deena’s story .................................................. 27

1 Life at the top ............................................................. 28

2 Turning point ............................................................. 39

3 Rebirth of the sustainable company ................................. 53

Part II  Mainstream companies that are doing well by doing good ........................................... 73

4 The new competitive environment .................................. 75
5 DuPont ................................................................. 81
6 Wal-Mart .............................................................. 89
7 Lafarge ................................................................. 100
8 NatureWorks LLC, a subsidiary of Cargill .................. 109

Part III The sustainable value toolkit ......................... 117
9 Introduction to sustainable value ............................ 119
10 The eight disciplines ........................................... 135
11 Putting it all together ........................................... 178

Postscript .................................................................. 191
Business as an Agent of World Benefit: How the Holy Grail of business—innovation—can be magnified through the power of sustainable value creation
Professor David Cooperrider, Founder and Chairman, Center of Business as an Agent of World Benefit, with Ante Glavas, Executive Director, and Nadya Zhembayeva, Associate Director

Endnotes .................................................................. 197
Index ....................................................................... 203